What is Hate Crime?

When someone commits a hate crime, they are motivated by prejudice against their victim's:

- Ethnicity or race
- Disability
- Sexual orientation
- Gender identity
- Mental Health
- Religion or beliefs
- Age
- Gender

Hate Crime comes in many forms

- a physical attack like an assault
- verbal abuse or abusive gestures
- threats, harassment, intimidation, humiliation or degradation
- vandalism or criminal damage
- offensive letters, leaflets, posters, graffiti
- emails, texts or phone calls

Why you should report Hate Crime

You do not have to put up with abuse just because of your age, disability, gender, gender orientation, race, religion or belief or sexual orientation.

Sadly many hate crimes go unreported – which means that people keep getting away with them.

If you report an incident to Bristol Hate Crime Services, you will be offered the support and advice that is right for you.

You will help to make sure that the offenders are brought to justice and you will make your community a safer place to be.
